1. Introduction

1.1. Introduction to the project

For this group coursework of the module named “CC4057NI Introduction to Information Systems”, we have successfully designed and developed an e-commerce website focusing on the different watch brands. This website provides a portal to a catalogue of varieties of watches from different brand collaborations offering a reasonable yet luxurious collection.

In this coursework, our sole goal is to develop an e-commerce website which is named as Prism. As the name suggests itself, Prism holds the virtue of a platform through which our customers can easily access the timepieces and brands as per their style and choice. In this website, at least 5 pages are addressed with the following topics:

- Home page: It consists of the introduction and subtle information about the website. It further includes the header, body sections with graphics, design and miniature assets of individual pages, footer along with navigation bar that helps viewers navigate to other pages with a single click. Furthermore, it also consists of a Login form.
- Blog page: It focuses on elaborating the field of technology as well as its positive and negative impacts on the eco-system environment. Furthermore, it shows the consumer trends, social impacts and overall conclusion.
- Product page: It contains descriptive details of different watches related to specific brands and collections. It further includes short description on the product's brand, collection, producers, actual prices, discounted prices, ratings and reviews.
- Research page: It shows the list of each and every website used to research and reference while developing our website. The comparisons of the designs are also provided for proper reference.
- About Us page: It contains the portfolio of each of our team members along with small description about our website, small description of team members and a feedback form.

Every web page on our website has specific attributes, characteristics and importance. On a visit to the website, customers will see a homepage addressing details of different collections, brands and their timepieces.

Other pages can be accessed with a single click on the navbar which leads to desired destination to either buy, understand trends, research, take reference or to address the about section.

Overall, the sole aim of our website is to provide the ideal platform to our customers which focuses on excellent customer service, integrated security and featured collections. Our website, as a whole, addresses as the perfect e-commerce website with excellence and precision.

1.2. Goals of the project

The project aims to give us a hands-on experience on working in a group environment and working with various people, ideas and imagination. The main goal for this coursework is to design and develop an e-commerce website that connects our customers via an online platform, offering seamless services, upholding customer trust and keeping up with the consumer trend. It has focused on developing an engaging and user-friendly platform for the retail addressing varieties of watches.

1.3. Objectives of the project

The objectives of the project are as follows:

- To design and develop a functional and user-friendly e-commerce website addressing varieties of brands and their collection of watches.
 - To correctly use HTML, CSS and JavaScript advancing skill development.
 - To enhance mental agility, group performance and creative thinking while working with the assigned team.
 - To implement scripting languages, code structuring and proper hierarchy while working on the website.
 - To allow students to have a deeper understanding of customer service and web marketing.
 - To appropriately use comments in HTML, CSS and JavaScript for a detailed and better understanding.
 - To use internal, external and inline CSS as well as functional JavaScript with proper justification.
 - To implement a fully functional navigation bar which allows users to navigate to other webpages with a single click.
- To store every used and referenced figure in proper folder structure for a descriptive yet well-put elaboration.

- To examine the website's accessibility and usability for creating a well-structured report that addresses the steps involved in its design and development.

1.4. Technologies used for the project

In this project, three primary programming languages including HTML, CSS and JavaScript have been utilized with the aim to create a functional, well-organized and user-friendly watch website.

Some brief explanations on these languages along with their implications are as follows:

1.4.1. HTML5

HTML (Hyper Text Markup Language) is the language used for web documents. It is not a programming language, but rather a language that identifies the meaning, purpose, and structure of text within a document. (Wood, 2020)

HTML5 is the latest specification of the HTML language, and represented a major break with previous markup practices. The purpose of the profound changes to the language was to standardize the many new ways in which developers were using it, as well as to encourage a single set of best practices with regards to web development. (Wood, 2020)

In HTML there are some semantic elements that can be used to define different parts of a web page:

- <article>
- <aside>
- <details>
- <figcaption>
- <figure>
- <footer>
- <header>
- <nav>
- <section>

(Anon., n.d.)

(stickpng, n.d.)

1.4.2. CSS3

CSS (Cascading Style Sheets) is a stylesheet language used to style web pages, while CSS3 is its advanced version with new features and modules.

CSS3 introduce enhanced styling capabilities like animations, transitions, media queries, and rounded corners, provide more flexibility and functionality for web design.

It is an advanced version of CSS, used for structuring, styling, and formatting web pages. (GeeksforGeeks, 2024)

CSS3, in conjunction with HTML5, has become a great technology for creating responsive, well-structured, and aesthetically pleasing websites, and that too in less time. It consists of the features like Advanced Animations and Transitions, Multiple Backgrounds and Gradients, Multiple Column Layouts, Opacity, Rounded Corners,

Selectors, Font Flexibility, Word Wrapping, Transforming Elements, Text Shadowing. (Anon., n.d.)

In our website, 3 types of CSS are used: internal, external and inline. CSS3 is used for the layout and formatting of elements of the webpages in this project. Various CSS attributes like font family, margin, padding, font size, height, width, text align, colour, etc. were used to adjust the formatting of the webpages. The advantages of using CSS are:

- Saves time
- Easy maintenance and debugging
- Better styling
- High compatibility

1.4.3. JavaScript

JavaScript is a programming language that allow you to implement complex features on web pages display timely content updates, interactive maps, animated 2D/3D graphics, etc. It is the third layer of the layer cake of standard web technologies, two of which are HTML and CSS. (MozDevNet, n.d.)

JavaScript, on the other hand, is a dynamic programming language that supports Math calculations, allows you to dynamically add HTML contents to the DOM, creates dynamic style declarations, fetches contents from another website, and lots more. (freeCodeCamp, 2021)

In our project, JavaScript is used along with HTML and CSS to create dynamic webpages.

It can be implemented in two ways: internal and external.

For our webpages, we have used 3 types of JavaScript functions:

- Form validation: We have used form validation JS in the login form to check whether the input fields are valid or not.
- Button Click-On Event: It links with the JavaScript function and does the task commanded by the user in the function.
- Alert popup: For this, we have used onclick function to get alert popup when user clicks “Buy Now” button.

1.5. Verdict

This project being our first coursework of the module "Introduction to Information Systems" was a bit harder than anticipated. However, the end product was satisfactory.

This project involved the designing, development and showcase of an interactive and user-friendly e-commerce website addressing different watch brands. We successfully created it under all the requirements and guidelines.

This website consists of a user-friendly interface, excellent product classification, brand description, research references, blog reviews and many other potential outcomes. Overall, we had to put in lots of efforts and dedication to make this website visually pleasing and functional.

In the process of development, we got introduced to various text editor tools like Visual Studio Code, wireframe developing tools like Balsamiq, Figma, etc, webpages like home page, product page, blog page, research page, about us page. We got introduced to languages like HTML, CSS and JavaScript. To address these, we got help and guidance from our lecturers, teachers, seniors, MST platform and various websites. In this journey, we learnt and made significant progress in the understanding of various applications and implemented them accordingly.

Overall, continued efforts and regular feedbacks led us to the completion of this project. We are really grateful to the excellent teachings and guidance of our teachers with the help of which this project was a success.

2. Discussion and Analysis

2.1. Selected Text Editor

The text editor we have selected while developing our website is Visual Studio Code (VS Code).

Visual Studio Code (VS Code) is a free open-source text editor by Microsoft. VS Code is available for Windows, Linux, and macOS. VS Code supports a wide range of programming languages from Java, C++, and Python to CSS, Go, and Docker file. VS Code is allowing us to add on and create new extensions including code linters, debuggers, and cloud and web development support. It aims to provide just the tools a developer needs for a quick code-build-debug cycle. (Microsoft, 2021)

In this coursework, Visual Studio Code was used to write the HTML, CSS and JavaScript which were the main languages used in developing the website. The VS code allowed us to add on various extensions like live server. It assisted us at every stage of coding, from opening tags to automatically closing them. Furthermore, other features like syntax highlighting, code formatting, code navigation, debugging, and many others made the website development more convenient and user-friendly.

2.2. Tool used for developing wireframe

For designing the wireframes, the tool we have used is Balsamiq Wireframes.

Balsamiq Wireframes is a user interface design tool for creating wireframes. It can be used to generate digital sketches of our idea or concept for an application or website and understanding before any code is written. The completed wireframes can be used for user testing, clarifying your vision, getting feedback from stakeholders, or getting approval to start development. (Balsamiq, 2021)

With the help of Balsamiq, we were able to draw the outline of our webpage and work accordingly. It has guided us with many ideas and concepts while constructing wireframe for our website. It allowed us to easily arrange and resize these elements to create a rough layout of our webpage-Prism. It has a simple and intuitive interface for designing and creating wireframes quickly. Before writing code, we create visual sketches to better comprehend and communicate our ideas.

3. Webpages

It includes the page description which addresses a detailed explanation of the five webpages developed, along with the screenshots of their wireframes and webpages themselves. This part mainly focuses on elaborating the primary concept and the implications of each webpage featured on the website. It provides the basic yet brief concept, purpose and content of each webpage.

The following webpages are present in this project:

3.1. Home

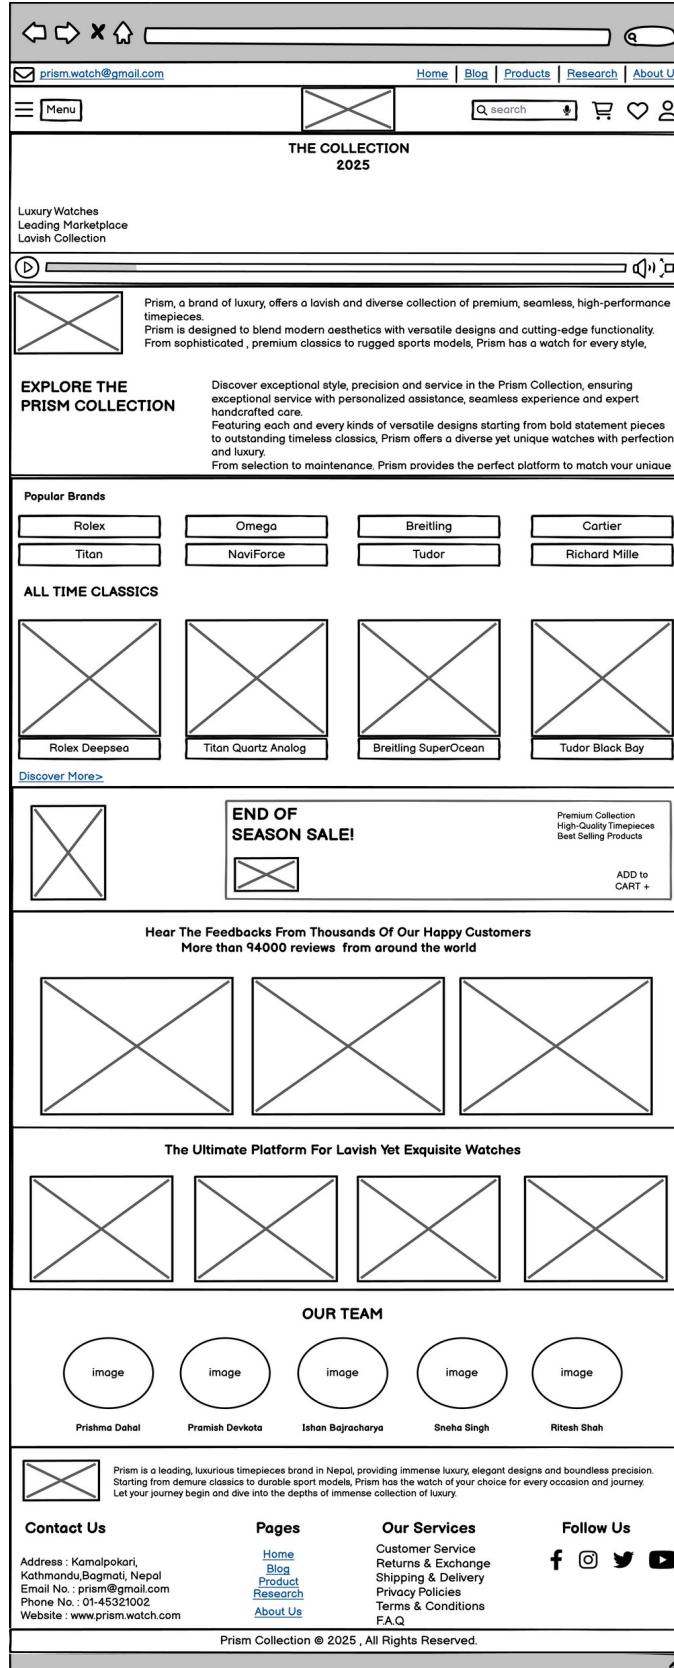

A home page is the main web page that a visitor view when they navigate to a website and it may also function as a landing page to attract visitors. In some cases, the home page is a site directory, particularly when a website has multiple home pages. (Wikipedia, 2024)

The homepage of this website has a navigation bar on the top, a banner, a short brand video, a short introduction section and a footer on the bottom. On the right side, there are navigation links through which user can navigate to other pages of the website. In the introduction section, short website description is provided along with featured brands and collaborations. Another section of the body includes featured products with a sale alert banner. Likewise, another section is allocated for the customer-review part with blog headlines just below to it. The footer section consists of quick links which navigate to other pages of the website, company logo, name, location, phone number and email address. On the bottom of the footer, there is copyright text.

Tags used in the homepage are as follows:

- <html>: It is the main container of all the elements in an HTML document. It is denoted by the first and last tags.
- <head>: It contains information about the document, such as the title and style.
- <meta>: It is used to provide metadata about the HTML document.
- <title>: It provides the title to the document by naming them.
- <link>: It links external style sheets to our website.
- <body>: It contains all the images, links, tables, lists, paragraphs, internal, inline CSS and JavaScript.
- <nav>: It is used to create navigation links that are typically found in header.
- : It is used for hyperlinks, for navigating between web pages.
- : It is used for creating layouts and organizing content in HTML.
- *: It is used to put the image in the HTML page.
- <input>: It is used to create different forms of people's need.
- <button>: It is used to create a button that can be clicked in the HTML.
- <h1> to <h4>: It is used to define HTML headings.
- <style>: It is called internal CSS and helps to style HTML.
- <script>: It is called Internal JavaScript and helps to style HTML internally.

3.2. Blog

A blog is a frequently updated web page used for personal or business content. Blogs are often interactive and include sections at the bottom of individual blog posts where readers can leave comments. (Barney, 2022)

The homepage of this website has a navigation bar on the top, a short introduction and a footer on the bottom. In the introduction section, short impact of technology along with its advantages and disadvantages description is provided. Another section of body includes watches along with some description with the heading trends in the market. Likewise, another section is allocated for recent news and events which contains news along with the photo. The footer section contains of quick links which navigate to other pages of the website, company logo, name, location, phone number and email address. On the bottom of the footer, there is copyright text.

Tags used in the blog page are as follows:

- <html>: It is the main container of all the elements in an HTML document. It is denoted by the first and last tags.
- <head>: It contains information about the document, such as the title and style.
- <meta>: It is used to provide metadata about the HTML document.

- <title>: It provides the title to the documentary by naming them.
- <body>: It contains all the images, tables, lists, paragraphs and CSS.
- <nav>: It is used to create navigation links that are typically found in header.
- : It is used for creating layouts and organizing content in HTML.
- : It is used to put image in the HTML page.
- <h1>to<h4>: It is used to define HTML headings

The wireframe shows a header with a user icon and navigation links (Home, Blog, Products, Research, About Us). Below the header is a title box labeled "Impact of Technology". A main content area contains a text box about the impact of technology in e-commerce, followed by two side-by-side boxes: "Advantages" and "Disadvantages".

Technology in eCommerce

Technology in eCommerce refers to the use of digital tools, platforms, and systems to facilitate online transactions, sales, and marketing. It allows customers to browse products, make purchases, view order status, access customer support, and has a significant impact on many different aspects of the e-commerce value chain, including operations, customer service, and advertising. Technology plays a role in the field of e-commerce, enabling businesses to operate efficiently, enhance customer experiences, and stay competitive.

Advantages

- Enhanced communication and connectivity globally.
- Automation of repetitive tasks increases productivity.
- Improved healthcare through advanced medical equipment.
- Access to vast knowledge and resources online.
- Innovation in industries leading to economic growth.

Disadvantages

- Over-dependence on technology can reduce critical thinking.
- Privacy concerns with data breaches and surveillance.
- Increase in unemployment due to automation.
- Digital addiction and negative mental health impacts.
- Environmental impact due to e-waste and energy consumption.

Trends in Market

The wireframe displays three columns of content cards, each featuring a large X-shaped graphic on the left and a text box on the right.

Why Choose Rolex?

Rolex watches are much more than luxurious accessories. Owning a Rolex is more than just purchasing a timepiece. Rolex has incorporated eco-friendly practices into its manufacturing process. 3.4. Research

Research page is an integral portion of a website it shows the reference points and the idea, we take great inspiration from. It helps a project to form and is an important part of the planning phase of a new website and a new journey.

Our Research page consists of a navigation bar with a header. Going downward it gives a brief description on the page and the content which relates to the research of the page. Furthermore, it shows the logo with an external link to the website we referenced ourselves.

Moving downward it shows the image of final product and the image of the referenced website to show where our ideas and inspiration arrived from. It also has a description on the idea we referenced. The footer section consists of quick links which navigate to other pages of the website, company logo, name, location, phone number and email address. On the bottom of the footer, there is copyright text.

Tags used in the research page are as follows:

- <html>: It is the main container of all the elements in an HTML document. It is denoted by the first and last tags.
- <head>: It contains information about the document, such as the title and style.
- <meta>: It is used to provide metadata about the HTML document.

Impact of Technology

Technology in eCommerce refers to the use of digital tools, platforms, and systems to facilitate online transactions, sales, and marketing. It allows customers to browse products, make purchases, view order status and access customer support. It has a significant impact on many different aspects of the e-commerce value chain, including operations, customer service, and advertising. Technology plays a role in the field of e-commerce, enabling businesses to operate efficiently, enhance customer experiences, and stay competitive.

Advantages <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Enhanced communication and connectivity globally. • Automation of repetitive tasks increases productivity. 	Disadvantages <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Over-dependence on technology can reduce critical thinking. • Privacy concerns with data breaches and surveillance.

5. Conclusion

5.1. Task Carried Out

This was our first coursework of the module “Introduction to Information Systems”. This project involved the designing, development and showcase of an interactive and user-friendly e-commerce website addressing different watch brands. This website provides a portal to a catalogue of varieties of watches from different brand collaborations offering a reasonable yet luxurious collection. The main objective was to give us a hands-on experience on working in a group environment following the necessary guidelines and requirements set to us.

The website is named as Prism. As the name suggests itself, Prism holds the virtue of a platform through which our customers can easily access the timepieces and brands as per their style and choice. Our website contains combination of different webpages such as Home page which consists of a brief idea and individual overview of the different web pages. A blog page which consists of information on how Technologies have impacted our business today and if it is an asset or a liability to us. Product page which consists of the description, pricing and review of different products from different brand collections. A research page which consists of the research that shows the overview of other websites from where references are taken as a whole. An About us page which consists of introduction of the members who worked together to develop this webpage.

During the designing and development of the webpage, we got introduced to various text editor tools like Visual Studio Code, wireframe developing tools like Balsamiq, Figma, etc, webpages like home page, product page, blog page, research page, about us page. We got introduced to languages like HTML, CSS and JavaScript. We as a team learnt the basics of developing the webpage through this project as we worked well together in developing this website.

5.2. Research & Findings

As a group we spent a long-time planning and researching various other websites that helped a lot in developing our website. We watched many tutorials online to get a general idea on how to code and manage the tags in HTML.

The project aimed to demonstrate the group's ability to design and create a website, as well as to improve its functionality using scripting languages. We researched e-commerce and watch websites before selecting appropriate tools and technologies for website design and development. The website's appearance and navigation are user-friendly, ensuring a pleasant experience for visitors. We reviewed the website's usability and made necessary improvements to fulfil standards ensuring smooth shopping.

Overall, the e-commerce website project was a success. We were introduced to core internet technologies, web design and development, and scripting languages. The website was designed to align with the project's objectives and facilitate online shopping for visitors. The team gained handful experience and academic knowledge from the e-commerce website project.

5.3. Overall Conclusion

Despite these challenges, we were able to showcase our competency in website design and development, using appropriate tools and technologies to create a functional and visually appealing e-commerce website. We learned about the structure of a website and how to apply simple navigation principles, as well as the importance of website design considerations such as usability and accessibility.

In conclusion, this coursework was an invaluable learning experience for us, providing us with an opportunity to develop essential skills in website development while also facing and overcoming the challenges that come with it. The final product did not only demonstrate our technical abilities, but also enhanced the importance of detail viewing, problem-solving skills, and the ability to work under pressure.
